Core Leadership Team Key Messages

Our Core Leadership Team enjoyed being together last month. It was a positive, encouraging and hopeful gathering where we were constantly reminded of the reality of the Kingdom of God in our midst. One of the key roles of the Core Leadership Team is to come together to pray and share so that we can perceive what God is doing. This then helps shape our wider Baptist discernment through Council. Three-year mission vision for Baptist Assembly

Throughout our 400-year history, mission has been at the heart of who we are. With evangelism and discipleship, it is clearly what still drives our leaders and churches as they seek to reflect the heart of God in their own particular communities. In recent years the Baptist Assembly has reflected this mission focus - and as we move into and beyond the mid 2020s, it will continue to do so. Our Assemblies in 2025, 2026 and 2027 will all focus on mission through different lenses. Venues have been booked and the events will offer a place where discernment, storytelling, equipping, resourcing and good practice around mission take place. Click here to find out more.

Why disability inclusion is so important

Christian charity Through the Roof produced a series of videos and shorts for Disability Awareness Sunday last month. One set features Helen Cameron (President of the Methodist Conference, Moderator of the UK Free Churches Group and President of CTE) in a series of five videos about church disability inclusion. The second set, on the theme 'Journey with Jesus' was created from an interview with Baptist minister Andrew Miles - a hospital chaplain and wheelchair user, who has an assistance dog. These videos are worth sharing with your church when discussing accessibility and inclusion.

Share Jesus International (SJI) - Sharing Jesus Quiz

SJI has commissioned research to better understand how practising Christians in the UK share their faith. The research identified four main tensions when it comes to faith sharing. Tension around whether faith sharing starts with the message or the person; is done personally or corporately; is done in word or action; and is understood with a concluding moment or as part of an ongoing journey. These tensions are based on everyday attitudes and highlight that there is no one way of doing things. Using the tensions, six faith sharing styles have been developed and an online quiz is available to enable Christians to discover how they tend to share their faith. The profiles affirm and celebrate some aspects whilst also giving each person a 'stretch' or something to develop. Click here to access the quiz.

Together with Church Action on Poverty and as part of the Let's End Poverty movement, JPIT has created a collection of resources to help you and your church engage with Challenge Poverty Week, which will be available soon.

Whitley Lecture - Monday 4 November

Tim Judson's timely and powerful reflection on Whiteness (Dark Weeping and Light Sleeping: Whiteness as a Doctrine of De-formation) is a deeply personal and carefully argued appeal that combines theological insights with biblical reflection. Through exploring the trauma Jesus experienced as he anticipated the cross he opens up neglected themes in the gospels' account of Jesus' agony in the garden of Gethsemane, illuminating questions of justice and identity. This Whitley lecture demands a response that begins with sitting with the uncomfortable truth it explores.
