Utility Aid is proud to partner with Baptist Union of Great Britain to support Baptist Churches

Baptist Churches are under growing pressure from rising costs, increasing demand, and tighter budgets. Collective buying offers a smarter way to reduce energy costs — helping you protect funding and focus more resources on frontline services.

By combining buying power, organisations can secure better energy deals and greater financial certainty.

Option A

National Charity Tender – for organisations that want expert support at every step.

Fixed-rate contracts with guaranteed energy costs

Enhanced service: 5-day response times and C-level escalation

Exclusive energy management tools

Giving back through the Utility Aid Foundation – funding available to National Charity Tender members

Option B

The Collective – for organisations focused on securing the lowest possible price.

Fixed-rate energy contracts to protect against market volatility

Collective purchasing power designed for charities

Access to exclusive supplier offerings and preferential rates
